Les Trois Vallées

Les Trois Vallées or The Three Valleys is a ski region in the Tarentaise Valley, Savoie département of France, above the town of Moûtiers and have areas within the Vanoise National Park

Since 1973, it has been possible to ski the interlinked valleys using a single ski pass. Thus, Les Trois Vallées is the largest ski area in the world and is connected solely by ski lifts and slopes. It has more than 600 km (410 miles) of ski slopes, resulting in 18.5 km<sup>2</sup> of groomed runs. In addition, there are 120 km for cross-country skiing. Les Trois Vallées has 183 ski lifts, which can transport 260,000 skiers per hour.

Courchevel and Meribel accommodate skiers up to an intermediate level. Attracting skiers of all nationalities these two resorts in the heart of Les Trois Valless ski domain are becoming more and more popular each year. Both have excellent ski schools which cater for the English speaking market and pistes to test those newly learnt skills. Advanced skiers are not forgotten as the sheer expanse of this domain provides pistes for all abilities. Courcheval is split into four sections which are classified by their altitude, the further up the valley the higher prices seem to climb. Courcheval 1300 (Le Praz) for instance is an old Farming village, with a relaxed pace which will suit young families. In contrast to Courcheval 1850, which is a popular resort for the rich and famous, some superb hotels and restaurants reflect this. Lifts in 1850 will give you access to some of the best pistes in Les Trois vallees but be prepared for a wait in high season.

Les Menuires and Val Thorens are preferred by advanced skiers, beginners and intermediates are still well catered for however. Gentle green runs will soon get you up to speed and bring you the confidence to start with some of the easier blues.

The nightlife is not as abundant as resorts like Courcheval and Meribel with only a smattering of traditional restaurants and bars but this is one of the charms and the reason these resorts are so popular with French skiers. With less international visitors, queues at the lifts are much shorter which allows for more time spent skiing in this fabulous domain.
